Linyi Man Murdered by Family Planning Official

China: Family Planning Official Stabs Man to Death

Linyi City, Shandong Province, China.   On the night of March 21, 2011, near the home of blind activist Chen Guangcheng, a Family Planning Official stabbed a young man to death while he was trying to protect his father from a beating. Family Planning Officials entered the home of Mr. Xu Shuaishuai looking for his sister to seize her for a forced sterilization. When they could not find Mr. Xu's sister, they beat and injured his father. When Mr. Xu tried to defend his father, one of the Family Planning Officials stabbed Mr. Xu in the heart twice with a long knife. Mr. Xu died on the way to the hospital.

Local government authorities have not apologized to the family of Mr. Xu, nor have they arrested the murderer. The local news agencies have declined to report on the murder. A full translation of the Boxun report is below.

Women's Rights Without Frontiers extends its condolences to the family of Mr. Xu. We also forcefully condemn this atrocious crime. We demand that the Chinese Communist Party bring the family planning murderer and his accomplices at the Family Planning Office to swift justice.

The murder of Mr. Xu underscores the brutality of the coercive enforcement of China's One Child Policy. The first level of coercion is directed against the women themselves. In this case the Family Planning Officials came to Mr. Xu's home to seize his sister for a forced abortion. The violence, however, extends to family members, including siblings, parents and even elderly...
